Greetings from the Executive Director

Dear UAF eLearning Faculty,

What an exciting time to teach online!

As you’ve undoubtedly noticed, the landscape of higher education has changed over the past few years. New technologies, ubiquitous connectedness through mobile devices, and increased access to open educational resources have created ever-expanding options for enriched learning. Historically, non-traditional and geographically distributed students were the primary users of distance courses. Today a wide range of students enroll in eLearning courses as their first choice.

UAF has embraced the opportunity and challenge of integrating online courses into the academic mainstream. UAF eLearning & Distance Education partners with UAF schools and colleges to offer rigorous, effective online courses. As a faculty member, you are essential to this process and key to student success!

Teaching in this environment may present challenges you never faced in the classroom. We understand—and we’re here to help! Instructional Designers are ready to assist you with technology, innovation, and online pedagogy. Program Services Staff will guide you through key milestones in the semester, with friendly email reminders and assistance for navigating academic deadlines. Our Student Services Team will provide the personal, high-touch assistance your students need and want.

We hope this resource guide will be a valuable resource; we believe it will answer many of your questions. As you need more information, please contact us! We’re here to serve you.

Awesome opportunities and responsibilities await you as an online faculty member. Thanks for your willingness to accept the challenge!

Carol Gering,
Executive Director

OVERVIEW

INTRODUCTION

UAF eLearning & Distance Education is part of the University of Alaska Fairbanks. We have the longest standing distance delivery program in Alaska, offering correspondence courses for more than 45 years. There are more than 350 courses and 18 full programs, from occupational endorsements to master’s degrees, available to students working on degree programs or personal enrichment. UAF eLearning does not exercise any property rights over online course material. Course development is negotiated with departments, schools and colleges. The primary objective of this guide is to empower UAF faculty members by providing up-to-date information related to teaching UAF eLearning-supported courses and familiarizing them with the resources available.

FERPA

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) deals specifically with the education records of students, affording them certain rights with respect to those records. For purposes of definition, education records are those records, which are 1) directly related to a student and 2) maintained by the institution or a party acting for the institution.

FERPA gives students who reach the age of 18, or who attend a postsecondary institution, the right to inspect and review their own education records. Furthermore, students have other rights including the right to request amendment of records and to have some control over the disclosure of personally identifiable information from these records.

For more information regarding FERPA and teaching, please consult: http://elearning.uaf.edu/go/ferpa/. If you have further questions about FERPA, please contact the Faculty Services Coordinator.

The University of Alaska provides FERPA training through UAOnline (http://uaonline.alaska.edu).

REQUIRED TRAININGS

All employees regardless of their employment status (staff, faculty, student employee, temporary) are required to complete the basic eight trainings listed on the UAF Environmental, Health, Safety and Risk Management website: http://www.uaf.edu/safety/training/.

TITLE IX

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 is a federal law set to end sex discrimination and provide guidance regarding equity and sexual discrimination in all federally funded educational institutions. This law forbids sex discrimination in all student services and academic programs such as, but not limited to: admissions, financial aid, career services, residence life, classrooms, health and counseling services. Title IX also forbids discrimination on employment and in hiring. Its goal is to protect people and ensure that their right to be in a safe environment, free of sexual violence and unequal treatment is instituted and enforced. Title IX has been traditionally known as a law that protects women in athletics. However, this law encompasses much more than just women in sports.

UAF’s Title IX Coordinator is Mae Marsh, Director of the Office of Diversity & Equal Opportunity, and can be contacted at mmarsh36@alaska.edu. For more information, reporting an incident, and training opportunities, please visit the Office of Diversity & Equal Opportunity’s website at http://www.uaf.edu/oeo/title-ix/.
TITLE IX LANGUAGE FOR YOUR SYLLABUS

UAF’s Title IX Coordinator has provided language for your syllabus that indicates the faculty member’s reporting obligations.

“University of Alaska Board of Regents have clearly stated in BOR Policy that discrimination, harassment and violence will not be tolerated on any campus of the University of Alaska. If you believe you are experiencing discrimination or any form of harassment including sexual harassment/misconduct/assault, you are encouraged to report that behavior. If you report to a faculty member or any university employee, they must notify the UAF Title IX Coordinator about the basic facts of the incident. Your choices for reporting include:

1. You may access confidential counseling by contacting the UAF Health & Counseling Center at (907) 474-7043;
2. You may access support and file a Title IX report by contacting the UAF Title IX Coordinator at (907) 474-6600;
3. You may file a criminal complaint by contacting the University Police Department at (907) 474-7721.

ACADEMIC STANDARDS FOR UAF ELEARNING

UAF eLearning-supported courses are developed in partnership with UAF academic departments, who exercise academic oversight and approval over course content and contract. UAF eLearning courses are designed to meet the same standards and outcomes—and are subject to the same departmental review and curriculum approval process—as all other UAF courses. All courses meet the UAF Student Learning Outcomes as established by the responsible academic department, regardless of where, when or how any course is delivered. A department may, at any time, rescind their approval of a course, curriculum or faculty member. UAF eLearning does not exercise any property rights over online course material. Course development is negotiated within departments, schools and colleges.

COPYRIGHT & INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

UAF eLearning-supported courses and associated materials are produced in accordance with copyright law and the tenets of Fair Use. For more information:

- http://elearning.uaf.edu/go/ua-copyright/
- http://elearning.uaf.edu/go/copyright-fairuse/

Intellectual property rights to materials created by UAF eLearning faculty members are addressed in Board of Regents’ Policy section 10.07 which specifies that rights are governed by:

1. The specific sponsored contract, if any, or
2. The relevant union contract.

UAF eLearning does not assert nor exercises no special rights on intellectual property or course materials created by faculty members for an online, hybrid, etc. course.

INSTITUTIONAL RESPONSIBILITY

UAF eLearning ensures faculty members and learners have access to the same level of support services that faculty and students receive on-campus. UAF eLearning provides the administrative infrastructure (guidelines and policies for instruction), faculty support (including access to and trainings in a variety of instructional media, library and other required resources), and student support services (advising, placement testing, library support, and technical support) necessary to meet the needs of e-learners.
• All faculty members will be provided the training necessary to be successful in the online teaching environment.
• Faculty development will be supported by UAF eLearning. Faculty teaching UAF eLearning-supported courses will be provided access to appropriate technical support through an online support center and trained by UAF eLearning staff.
• Faculty will be provided access to hardware and software required to create, maintain, and improve their online course content.
• The UAF eLearning Faculty Resource Guide will be distributed via email to all faculty members and as a download on the iteachu.uaf.edu website.
• UAF will provide faculty with access to information in UAOnline. Faculty will check their teaching schedule, generate class rosters, and submit students’ final grades through this interface. Faculty will be provided training on the use of UAOnline upon request.

EXPECTATIONS OF FACULTY

UAF eLearning-supported faculty are expected to practice according to the following guidelines. These guidelines are based on national standards broadly agreed upon by a range of national education organizations and universities. The purpose of these recommendations is to ensure that the quality of e-learning courses at the University of Alaska Fairbanks is acceptably high in terms of instructional delivery, “classroom” experience, and learning outcomes.

The following recommendations are not meant to dictate behavior or to limit freedom when it comes to the delivery and instruction of e-learning courses. Instead, they are designed to strengthen the quality of learning and the quality of experience associated with e-learning at UAF.

All UAF eLearning-supported courses will be assessed on a regular basis. All UAF eLearning-supported faculty members are expected to support and assist with assessment procedures designed to evaluate educational effectiveness and student satisfaction.

TIME COMMITMENT

Teaching an e-learning-supported course is different from teaching a traditional face-to-face class and demands incorporation of new teaching techniques and course management strategies. This mode of teaching requires considerable preparation and development time, both before the course starts (see APPENDIX I: Semester Startup Checklist) and throughout the semester. The amount of time required will depend on the course objectives and content, the faculty member’s time management and organizational skills, and the faculty member’s familiarity and comfort level with e-learning technology.

AVAILABILITY

Faculty members are expected to be available for grading without significant gaps. Faculty who are incapacitated or victims of an emergency situation demanding their absence are, if possible, replaced immediately.

COMMUNICATION AND OFFICE HOURS

Faculty members are required to provide timely responses to student inquiries. Faculty members should respond to student email requests or phone queries within 72 hours, preferably within 24 hours.
As part of the course design framework, UAF eLearning requires clearly stated contact information and encourages “office hours” synchronously and asynchronously using instant messaging, Google Hangouts, discussion forums or other methods as the faculty member desires. Preferred methods of contact, including the required faculty member email address and synchronous office hours (if applicable) must be stated in the syllabus.

Faculty may include a backup policy instructing students to contact UAF eLearning if the expected timeline is not being met.

FEEDBACK ON STUDENT ASSIGNMENTS

UAF eLearning emphasizes qualitative, formative feedback that will guide students during the learning process. Faculty members are expected to provide custom feedback on student assignments as well as quantitative grades.

In general, assignments should have established due-dates and grades must be posted within seven days of the assignment deadline. Lessons without a stated submission deadline must be graded and grades posted within seven days of receipt.

Grading policies, including the turnaround time, should be clearly stated in the syllabus.

MAINTENANCE OF GRADE BOOKS

Faculty members are expected to maintain a current grade book that accurately reflects grading activity in accordance with established response time policies and provides a method for students to view their current grades. Passive grading, assessment and communication engaged only in response to student-initiated actions are not considered best practices for e-learning. Students may drop, withdraw or be withdrawn from their courses (see APPENDIX II: Drop/withdraw Students).

UAF DISABILITY SERVICES OFFICE

The UAF Disability Services office provides academic accommodations to registered students who are identified as being eligible for these services. If a student believes they are eligible, or wishes to determine if they are, they should contact Disability Services on the Fairbanks Campus at: http://www.uaf.edu/disability/. Disability Services may also be reached via phone at (907) 474-5655, TTY at (907) 474-1827, fax at (907) 474-5688 or by email to uaf-disabilityservices@alaska.edu.

Faculty who are approached by students requesting an accommodation based on disability should ask for the Disability Services document (“Disability Accommodation Authorization”) that verifies that the student qualifies for such accommodation. If the student’s request is supported by the document or if it is verified by Disability Services, faculty must provide the accommodation so long as: “adjustments would not result in a fundamental alteration of the affected service, program, or activity; lower the standards of an instructional program; result in an undue financial, administrative or academic burden; or create a direct threat to the health or safety of others.” Individual faculty cannot unilaterally deny an authorized accommodation. If faculty think any of the above exceptions applies, they should contact the Faculty Services Coordinator for the correct next steps. If faculty need assistance or resources to provide the accommodation, also contact the Faculty Services Coordinator.
SEMESTER DEADLINES

ACTIONS: REQUIRED

COURSE REGISTRATION OVERRIDES

The process of granting course registration overrides is now done exclusively in UAOnline. Students may need course registration overrides for a variety of reasons, including a lack of preparatory coursework, a course requiring instructor permission, or based on their class standing.

Entering course registration overrides at UAOnline has several benefits; including full self-service for faculty, and instant ability for students to register after the overrides have been entered. Instructions on how to enter course registration overrides can be found in the short video tutorial on the UAF Registrar’s Faculty Services (http://www.uaf.edu/reg/faculty/) page.

PROVOST’S EARLY WARNING PROGRAM

The Provost’s Early Warning Program is a required process. You will receive an email with a link to a Google document with a list of your students. Please complete the list before the stated deadline. If you participated in UAF eLearning’s Early Warning Program, then we are happy to, upon request, send a report of our follow-ups to the Provost’s Office.

FRESHMAN PROGRESS REPORTS

UAF provides progress reports as academic performance feedback to freshmen early in their first year of college (fall and spring semesters only). This provides advisors, faculty and staff an opportunity for personal intervention, which has resulted in increased student success and retention.

The reports will provide students the opportunity to meet with their academic advisors and take corrective action before the last day for student-initiated withdrawals.

All progress reports must be submitted online. When grading through UAOnline (see APPENDIX III: How to Web Grade), faculty will see the entire class roster and should only provide progress reports for freshmen. Complete instructions for web grading are available at http://www.uaf.edu/reg/faculty/.

COURSE MATERIALS ADOPTION

Each semester a request for course materials information will be sent to faculty of UAF eLearning-supported courses they will teach the following semester. Course materials include but are not limited to any textbooks (or reading materials), software, CD/DVD, tools (calculators, flight computer, headset with microphone, etc.), access codes, etc. that may be used in a course. It is important to provide the requested information by the stated deadline so the UAF Follett Bookstore may process the adoption and stock the course materials in time to fulfill students’ orders before classes start. Some department admins are willing to place the course materials adoptions on your behalf. Please check with them.

The UAF Follett Bookstore is unable to order desk copies, please contact the Faculty Services Coordinator for information on how to order the desk copy yourself.
Final grades are due by 12pm the Wednesday after the last day of finals (see APPENDIX III: How to Web Grade). This date will always be published in the official UAF academic calendar (http://elearning.uaf.edu/go/uafacadcal). Most courses use the A-F with Plus/Minus grade scale or Pass/Fail grades. Listed below are three additional grade types.

I- INCOMPLETE GRADE PROCESS

The letter grade “I” (Incomplete Grade; see APPENDIX IV: Submitting Incomplete Grades) is a temporary grade and indicates that the student has satisfactorily completed (C or better) the majority of work in a course but for personal reasons beyond the student’s control, has not been able to complete the course during the regular semester.

Normally, an Incomplete is assigned when the student is current in the class until at least the last three weeks of the semester or summer term. Negligence or indifference are not acceptable reasons for an “I” grade. A faculty member intending to assign a grade of “I” will make a concerted effort to contact the student and secure his/her acknowledgement of the conditions.

Per the Office of Admissions and the Registrar (and recommended by UAF eLearning):

- An Incomplete should be completed within three months.
- An unfinished Incomplete automatically changes to an “F” after one year. Faculty need to include a statement of the work required of the student to complete the course at the time the “I” grade is assigned.
- A senior cannot graduate with an “I” grade in either a University or major course requirement. To determine a senior’s grade point average at graduation, the “I” grade will be computed as a failing grade.
- Once a student has completed the course, within the time limit, a Change of Grade form (see APPENDIX V: How to Do a Change of Grade) must be submitted.

NB- NO BASIS GRADE

The NB (No Basis) grade should be given in cases where there is insufficient student progress and/or attendance for evaluation to occur. The NB grade is a permanent grade, does not award credit, and is not included in a student’s GPA. The NB grade may not be used to substitute for the Incomplete (I). It cannot be removed by later completing outstanding work.

UAF eLearning strongly discourages the use of the No Basis (NB) Grade. If a student has not been participating in the course and the Faculty Initiated Withdrawal period has not passed, then we recommend submitting the student’s name for withdrawal.

NS- NOT SUBMITTED GRADE

The UAF Office of Admission and the Registrar will post NS (Not Submitted) grades for students whose faculty member failed to submit a final grade by the published deadline. A report, generated by the Office of Admission and the Registrar, of all NS grades will be sent to the department chairs, deans, and provost.

DROP FOR NON-PAYMENT POLICY

UAF has a Drop for Non-Payment Policy for the fall and spring semesters. This policy requires students to have paid their tuition and fees or be in an approved payment plan by the second Friday of the semester or they may be dropped from their courses. If a student is dropped for non-payment and wishes to re-enroll in courses, they will be assessed a $100 reinstatement fee. For more information on this policy, please visit: http://elearning.uaf.edu/go/nonpay/

ACTIONS: OPTIONAL

PRE-REQUISITE ENFORCEMENT

Students should not be enrolled in courses for which they are not adequately prepared. The Banner registration system enforces pre-requisites checking for courses unless the academic department has specifically turned them off. To request that pre-requisites be turned on or off for your course, please contact your academic department.

FACULTY DROPS

We encourage faculty to drop students who do not meet course prerequisites, did not obtain a grade of C (2.0) or better in all prerequisite courses or who have not participated substantially in a course. Faculty-initiated drops submitted through the third Friday after the first day of instruction will be treated as a dropped class and will not appear on any student transcript (see APPENDIX II: Drop/withdraw Students).

ELEARNING’S EARLY WARNING AND MIDTERM OUTREACH PROGRAMS

Evidence shows that e-learning students who do not engage with a course within the first three weeks are much less likely to succeed in the course. We rely on faculty to provide us with their expertise in assessing their students’ readiness and engagement with the course.

In order to promote UAF eLearning’s strategic goal of improving student success and achievement by formalizing outreach procedures, promoting two-way communication and expanding direct services we have instituted a voluntary Early Warning and Midterm Outreach Program. Faculty members are the critical, first link in this outreach. The program is coordinated by the Faculty Services Coordinator who will send e-mails to faculty asking for a list of students in each course who seem to be struggling or have fallen behind.

The first Early Warning Outreach period occurs during the first three weeks into each semester. The UAF eLearning program is for all UAF eLearning students regardless of degree-seeking status, department, class standing, or location. The Midterm Outreach period occurs two weeks before the Faculty-Initiated Withdrawal deadline each semester.

Students may run into myriad problems when trying to start a course or have issues during the term for which they are reluctant to ask for help. The Early Warning and Midterm Outreach Programs serve as a point of contact for these students. Faculty members should send information in this format:

- Course
- Full Name, Student ID Number
- Any particular message the faculty member would like relayed to the student (optional)

The UAF eLearning Academic Advisor will coordinate with communications staff to contact the students by email and phone. The Advisor will follow up with students as necessary.

FACULTY WITHDRAWALS

We encourage faculty to enter a “W” grade (faculty withdrawal) for those students who have not participated substantially in the course (including those who have not attended) or who have not met prerequisites. A grade of W will appear on a student’s academic record for faculty-initiated withdrawals. Entering a faculty withdrawal by the posted deadline listed in the academic calendar (http://elearning.uaf.edu/go/uafacadcal/), if appropriate, will reduce the number of unnecessary late withdrawal appeals later on.

COURSE COORDINATOR

The eLearning Course Coordinator prepares and coordinates fall, spring, and summer schedules for UAF eLearning & Distance Education-supported courses. The Coordinator works closely with UAF academic departments to create courses, monitor enrollment numbers, manage wait lists, and attach special notes pertaining to the course which appear on UAOnline, UAF Course Finder, and UAF eLearning website.

ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT

The Associate Director of Program Development is the first point of contact for faculty members interested in developing or instructing a new course. This position manages UAF eLearning's interactions with academic departments and monitors class sizes and wait lists. The Associate Director of Program Development works with deans and department chairs on faculty and course schedules. The Associate Director of Program Development also works with departments on assessing student course and program needs that lead to full degree program development.

ASSISTANT TO THE DIRECTOR

The Assistant to the Director provides UAF eLearning contract services for academic departments. If faculty members have questions about any human resources questions, they should contact the Assistant to the Director.

COURSE DEVELOPMENT

The Instructional Design Team collaborates with faculty in the creation of rich online courses. As part of the normal course development and revision process, faculty members will have at least one Instructional Designer assigned to them. UAF eLearning recognizes that faculty members are experts within their subject area. Instructional Designers provide individual consultation and training on educational methodologies as well as applicable technologies.

The Instructional Design Team remains available at all times on an as-needed basis to assist with the delivery and management of ongoing courses.

Faculty members engaged in this difficult and demanding form of teaching will be fully supported from the beginning of course development to the successful completion of their students.
BLACKBOARD & LEARNING MANAGEMENT SYSTEM (LMS) SUPPORT

The Instructional Design Team provides dedicated support for using Blackboard and associated technologies for the entire lifecycle of a course. Community@UAF is a WordPress installation for anyone affiliated with the University of Alaska Fairbanks. The site primarily serves the needs of UAF faculty in terms of course blogging and providing online space for open course materials whether used as a complete, self-contained course site, or used in conjunction with Blackboard.

FACULTY DEVELOPMENT

The Instructional Design Team offers the most sophisticated, complete and current faculty development offerings in the UA system involving pedagogy, outcomes, assessment, implementation and practical use of technology and tools.

- Implement sound pedagogy using current technology.
- Efficiently manage their classroom.
- Deliver their curriculum using a rich framework.
- Assess learning actively and authentically.

When feasible, any time UAF eLearning provides or participates in other training activities, the training material or information derived will be explicitly shared with UAF eLearning-supported faculty members. This information can be found easily on the eLearning Google+ Faculty Development community at http://elearning.uaf.edu/go/fdcomm. This is a private community, but we will add you.

APPENDIX III: How to Web Grade

Faculty web grading has been enabled in UAOnline for all (fall, spring, summer) active class sections. Follow these instructions for posting grades:

Incomplete Grades can be posted on the web using online forms at the Faculty and Advising Resources Google site (http://elearning.uaf.edu/go/oarfar/). You must be logged into your UA webmail in order to access the forms. If you have difficulties accessing the online forms contact our office and we will be happy to help.

Please note: Final Grades are due by 12pm the Wednesday after the last day of finals. This date will always be published in the academic calendar.

NS (Not Submitted) grades will be posted for all missing or late grades.

NS grades can have a negative impact on students. Graduating students may not be able to receive their diplomas. Late grades can impact scholastic action (i.e., honors, probation or disqualification), and a student’s future financial aid. Transcripts will be sent with the NS grades.

As a faculty member, it is your responsibility to protect any educational records in your possession. We would be happy to help answer any questions you might have about educational records or the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act.

GRADING GUIDE

Current grading policies can be found on pages 44-47 of the current UAF catalog (http://elearning.uaf.edu/go/catgrades/). The grading system approved for each course must be used. If the course was approved at the beginning of the semester for pass/fail (P/F) grades, only those grades can be issued. You may not mix pass/fail grades with regular letter grades.

VALID GRADES

- Letter Graded Course: A, B, C, D, F, *I, NB, DF
- Plus/Minus Grades: The letter grades A, B, C and D may include a “+” or “-” to indicate that a student’s level of performance is slightly higher or lower than that of the letter grade alone.
- Pass-Fail Graded Course: P, F, *I, NB, DF
INCOMPLETE (I)
The letter grade “I” (Incomplete) is a temporary grade used to indicate that the student has satisfactorily completed (C or better) the majority of work in a course but for personal reasons beyond the student’s control, such as sickness, was not able to complete the course during the regular semester. Normally, an Incomplete is assigned in the case when the student is current in the class until at least the last three weeks of the semester. The letter grade “I” is available via web grading. Faculty members need to submit a completed Notice of Incomplete Grade for each student receiving an incomplete grade. When the Incomplete Grade form is received at our office, the “I” is changed to an “I”. The online Incomplete Grade form is located on the Faculty and Advising Google site (http://elearning.uaf.edu/go/oarfar/).

Please note: The Incomplete policy requires the faculty member to include a statement of the work required to complete the course at the time the “I” grade is assigned. The student should be notified of the work to be completed, and the faculty member should send a copy of the Notice of Incomplete Grade to the Dean of the school or college in which the course is given. A faculty member intending to assign a grade of “I” will make a concerted effort to contact the affected student and secure his/her acknowledgment of the conditions. At the end of the defined time limit (may be less than one year), the faculty member may issue a grade based on the work submitted by the student. Effective Fall 2006, an incomplete must be made up within one year or it will automatically be changed to an “F” grade by the Office of Admissions and the Registrar.

NO BASIS (NB)
Faculty members may award a No Basis (NB) grade if there is insufficient student progress and/or attendance for evaluation to occur. No credit is given, nor is “NB” calculated in the GPA. The “NB” is a permanent grade and may not be used to substitute for the Incomplete (I). It cannot be removed later by completion of outstanding work. For Financial Aid purposes, complete the ‘last date attended’ block for all NB grades.

DEFERRED (DF)
This designation is used for courses such as thesis, special projects, etc., that require more than one semester to complete. A deferred grade (DF) may be used only when the course requirements cannot be completed by the end of the semester or if a course cannot be completed due to institutional reasons, such as breakdown of laboratory equipment.

CHECKING FOR ERRORS

1. If a student has been attending class and does not appear on the grade roster, use the Grade Roster Addition Google Form to report the student’s name, student ID and grade earned to our office. If we confirm that the student should have been enrolled in the class, we will add the student and record the grade indicated. If we cannot verify the student’s enrollment, we will not post credit or a grade for the course.

2. If a student on your class roster has stopped attending the class or has not attended at all, and a faculty initiated withdrawal was not submitted by the deadline, the student must be given an “F” or “NB”, if it is part of your grading policy. Do not leave the grade field blank. Indicate the last day attended for Financial Aid records.

3. An “AU” appears for students who were auditors. A “W” may be recorded for an auditor who has not met expectations for attendance - Auditing policy can be found on pages 47-49 of the current UAF catalog (http://elearning.uaf.edu/go/catgrades/). This must be done on a paper roster. Contact your department administrator or the Office of Admissions and the Registrar for a copy of the roster.
Student grades are confidential. Deliver grades in person to the Office of Admissions and the Registrar. Do not send completed grade rosters through the campus mail. Faxed grade rosters are not acceptable. Once grades are entered and rolled to history, students will be able to view their grades through UAOnline.

For questions, contact our office at (907) 474-7500. Please do not wait until the deadline to bring problems or special needs to our attention.

APPENDIX IV: Submitting Incomplete Grades

There are two parts to submitting an Incomplete grade. Part one is done in UAOnline while submitting final grades. Part two is done using the UAF Registrar's online form.

PART ONE:

When entering final grades in UAOnline (see APPENDIX III: How to Web Grade) select the IN grade for any student you are granting an Incomplete for that semester. The IN grade signals that an incomplete has been given but the paperwork hasn’t been submitted to the Registrar's Office. Once the paperwork has been submitted to the Registrar's Office then they will change the grade to I.

PART TWO:

To submit an Incomplete (I) grade, please click on this link: http://elearning.uaf.edu/go/fac-reg-forms and select Notice of Incomplete Grade. The Notice of Incomplete Grade is an online form. Please be prepared to provide the following information: course, section number, student's name, UAID, deadline for completion, and a list of remaining items/assignments/tasks that the student must complete by deadline.

APPENDIX V: How to do a Change of Grade

There are two ways to have a Change of Grade processed. One, is to email UAF eLearning's Registration Coordinator (uaf-elearning-registration@alaska.edu) the following information: course, section number, student's name, UAID, current grade, and new grade. If the change of grade is not for the completion of an Incomplete, then please provide a reason for the change.

The second method is to contact the UAF Admissions and the Registrar’s Office (registrar@uaf.edu) for a Change of Grade form. They will first ask you what term and reason for the grade change. They then will determine the next step. The typical next step is for them to send (via email to your UA Google account; @alaska.edu) you a Change of Grade form which you will complete and send back.
